Swynford Stores on Alconbury Weal celebrated their 4th anniversary recently.

Pictured are Adrian Wardman and his daughter Ellie. When the stores opened there were less than 50 occupied properties now, they serve over 500. During the lock down period, they offered a delivery service for the Weald and surrounding villages.

Irene Mae Holohan
1939 - 2021
A village life

Irene Holohan will be remembered as a gentle and kindly person who lived her whole life within the village of Great Stukeley where she will be greatly missed.

Yet, along with her twin sister Marion, she was born in London as war clouds darkened, heralding the outbreak of the Second World War. Her parents Eva and Robert Wenholt lived in Highgate, north London. At the outbreak of the war, they took the difficult decision to allow Margaret, their first child, to be evacuated to a family in Needingworth. Determined to keep the family together Eva managed to move to Huntingdonshire with all three girls - first to Godmanchester and then to Owl End, Great Stukeley. Irene never left the village she loved and grew up in.

Irene attended Great Stukeley Church of England School, and then aged 11 moved to the Huntingdon Secondary School on Brookside in Huntingdon. On leaving there she started work at the Silent Channel Company in the centre of Huntingdon. We are told she was even persuaded to represent the firm in a yellow swimsuit at Huntingdon's carnival in 1960.

Then she was introduced to a work colleague's nephew, David Holohan. They married in 1963 in St Bartholomew's Church in the village with the reception in the WI Hall (green tin, ex-First World War, known at the WI "hut"). They set up home in a cottage on Brookfield Farm until moving into a house on West View. They stayed there until the end of their lives.

Irene enjoyed village life, always entering the village show, winning trophies with produce, sweet peas, cakes and her prized shortbread. She was often seen on her bicycle, regularly going shopping into Huntingdon and over to Godmanchester to see her sister Margaret.

Her twin sister, Marion, had a different destiny. She married a USAF serviceman and so eventually moved over 5,000 miles away to live in sunny California. The eldest sister, Margaret, married and moved not quite so far away - to Godmanchester - and has written three books about growing up and village life which are an amazing treasure-trove of information about Great Stukeley's social history.

Sadly, David died in 2016 and Irene missed him greatly but was well supported by her two daughters, Amanda and Louise, and friends in the village.

Irene is survived by her two sisters, her daughters and her grandchildren, Molly, Emma, Annabelle and Alexander. Irene's funeral on the 24th June was, of course, fittingly held in St Bartholomew's Church in the village she loved.

ROAD WORKS ON ERMINE STREET

I am extremely concerned about the approach to the road works planned for Ermine Street in the Stukeley's which fail to deal adequately with the safety issues affecting both our villages.

1. We need STOP signs and ROAD MARKINGS on both sides of the road at the two Ermine Street entrances to Church Road in Great Stukeley and to the Ermine Street entrance to Low Road in Little Stukeley. There have already been several accidents in Great Stukeley as cars speed by these intersections on their way through the Stukeleys' as well as a number of near misses. Due to safety concerns about the first Church Road/Ermine Street intersection many of the Great Stukeley residents now use the Church Road/Ermine intersection by the Pub to enter and exit Church Road.

SLOW MARKINGS have proved to be totally inadequate safeguards.

Fixed mirrors to enable drivers to see around the corners in these blind spots would also be a very useful safety enhancement.

2. Tabletop Road humps should be placed along Ermine Street rather than a mix with the existing speed cushions. The latter have no impact on the speed of trucks, busses, vans, and SUV's going through the villages since they all have higher road clearance than cars. Nevertheless, some non-villagers now overtake cars which slow down to navigate the speed cushions making these speed limitations unfit for purpose.

Incidentally, the current closure of the entrance to Little Stukeley has shown that traffic entering our Villages has dropped substantially demonstrating the high volume of non-village vehicles that normally use this route.

3.The population of both villages have a high proportion of pensioners. In addition, the traffic through our villages carries a high proportion of non-local traffic who use the B1043 as a rat run. We need to keep the speed limit to a maximum of 30mph beginning at the entrance opposite the Shell Garage and continuing right throughout the villages to ensure speed consistency as well as to make Ermine Street a less desirable route.

4. I note that there is no mention or actions to be taken to reduce the growing number of trucks weighing over 7 tons from entering and transiting our villages.

5.There is no mention in the “Ermine Street Works.” leaflet issued, I presume by U & C, of what type of Gateway Feature is to be used for both village entrances. For the entrance to Great Stukeley the ideal position would be before John Major’s house on a straight section of road before the bend.

I note in the introduction to the “Ermine Street Works” leaflet there is no mention whatsoever of any review by the Villagers of the new traffic calming measures or whether they have been formally consulted on their experience and thoughts before the road works went ahead. As a result, the proposal is a minimalistic and low-cost approach to road safety through the villages. In fact, more attention appears to be focused on the new playing field to be used by some, rather than reducing the risk to the lives of all our, villagers. Which is more important to our community? The above suggestions are not expensive and if no other means are available there should be enough CIL money available to fund these important safety measures that are designed to benefit the residents of both our villages.

Brampton & District Royal British

The Royal British Legion turns 100 this year and during these current difficult times we should not lose sight of the Legions milestones and achievements, with just a few of these outlined below. You will also see the conflicts that have occurred during the 100 years and for that very reason the Legion is not all about the first and second world wars. The Legion has also evolved over time and does do a lot of work throughout the year. This is not just in November and Remembrance Day season. As the Poppy Appeal is conducted for 12 months of the year. Assisting in raising the annual £100 million which is spent on supporting those in need, including the families of serving and former service men and women.

So when you see the Royal British Legion and the Poppy Appeal fund raising throughout the year. I would ask that you support this long standing charity and the work they do. There is also false opinion that you need to be a former service man or woman to be a member. In fact anyone can join the Royal British Legion and show their support. The only criteria being that you agree with the ethos and principals of the Legion.

The areas of the Stukeley's and Alconbury are covered by Brampton & District Branch, which meets regularly at the Hare on the Green in Brampton. The Branch also has the honour of many former service personal, including a D Day veteran "Mr Cecil Deller" who is still very active.

As post Covid – 19 restrictions ease the nation and local towns and villages start to interact more, many will have more appreciation for life, others around them and indeed our great and wonderful Country. Why not likewise appreciate the work of the Royal British Legion and join the Brampton & District Branch. To enjoy like-minded people, our events and trips but above all to support the great work the Royal British Legion does.

If you are interested in becoming a member and to find out when we next meet, please contact via e mail: Brampton.Secretary@rbl.community

Thank you
